CIVIL SERVICE BULLETIN No. 4.

Rev. B. R. Allabough, Ohio, Chairman,
George M. Teegarden, Pennsylvania, Secretary,
Robert H. King, Kentucky.

MR. J. C. HOWARD,
President, N. A. D.

DEAR MR. HOWARD:—These are the days of the unemployed, of whom there is a goodly number deaf. Numerous applications for jobs have been received, others will likely pour in.

Pittsburgh, Pa., has been designated as the Employment Bureau of the N. A. D., with Mr. George M. Teegarden in charge. So all applications for positions should be addressed to Mr. Teegarden, Secretary of the Civil Service Committee of the N. A. D., 469 Ella Street, Wilkinsburg, Pa.

We cannot guarantee a position to any one seeking employment, but we will use our influence to the fullest extent. The DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL will be used as an advertising medium. Wherever practicable, local Civil Service committees should be consulted. In each case a complete statement of what an applicant can do and is willing to do, together with references, should accompany the applicant. Also a postage stamp for reply should be forwarded, if the negotiations are to be carried on through the mail.

To facilitate the work of local Civil Service committees, as well as the National Civil Service Committee, cards will be furnished, for name and address of applicant, age, sex, color and references, with a statement of what he or she can do and amount of pay expected. Where the local committee keeps one card, a duplicate will be sent to Mr. Teegarden, so a list of those needing employment may be published in the JOURNAL.

After long, tedious correspondence, we have succeeded in obtaining the aid of the following local civil service committees:

ALABAMA

For the State—J. H. McFarlane, Chairman, School for the Deaf, Talladega, and J. W. McCandless.
For Birmingham—A. M. Bell, care of C. F. Bell and Company.

ARKANSAS

For the State—J. H. Eddy, School for the Deaf, Little Rock.

CALIFORNIA

For Berkeley—Winfield S. Runde, 62 Panoramic Way.
For Los Angeles—Mrs. Laverna Wornstaff, 1228 Ingraham Street.
For San Francisco—Isadore Selig, 15 Winfield Avenue.
For Santa Barbara—W. Lacey Waters, R. F. D. No. 1.
For Santa Monica—Mrs. Alice T. Terry, Seventh Street.

Several other places are to be heard from yet, and additional committees will be announced as soon as formed.

The following circular has been sent to each Local Civil Service Committee:—

INSTRUCTIONS TO LOCAL CIVIL SERVICE COMMITTEES.

In order to extend the scope of the Civil Service Committee of the National Association of the Deaf, Local Civil Service Committees are appointed.

There are many who need to be assisted to jobs and positions other than to those handed out by the government.

Local Committees will, therefore, study the employment question, collect industrial information and ascertain as far as practicable what class of work is most suitable for the deaf. They will endeavor to get acquainted with business men and employment agencies of their respective localities, so that through their acquaintance they may assist deserving deaf persons in obtaining employment of whatever nature. Through these means many unemployed may obtain jobs, either permanent or temporary, to their advantage and profit.

This may prove of more practical benefit to the rank and file than securing government jobs for the few.

If any discrimination exists against the seeking employment, not merely under the Government but anywhere, it is the duty of Local Committees to report the same to the Central Committee and also to secure justice if possible.

B. R. ALLABOUGH, Chairman,
G. M. TEEGARDEN,
ROBERT H. KING,
CIVIL SERVICE COMMITTEE N. A. D.
Address the Chairman,
The Clark No. 4,
Lakewood, Ohio.

Another thing that is not mentioned in the above circular. We want a list of occupations held by the deaf, not only in each locality represented, but also in all other places within the State represented. State committees would do well to prepare blanks and get them filled out at their next state conventions. All such lists should be sent to Mr. G. M. Teegarden, Secretary of the National Civil Service Committee, before November 1st, 1916.

Here is a case for Mr. Albert Berg, Chairman of the Local Civil Service Committee for Indiana.

Being informed that the UNITED TYPOTHETAE OF AMERICA TECHNICAL SCHOOL OF PRINTING in Indianapolis had decided to exclude deaf students after an experiment, your chairman wrote to the director to ascertain the truth of this information, and received the following reply:

"We do not educate deaf students and cannot say what proportion might make good. The most apt one of several deaf students who were educated here several years ago, was kept in different positions through influence of the school for a year and finally ceased writing.

Neither is it possible to compare the work on machines of persons who hear and those who do not, for the reason that we have not had sufficient number to make comparison.

The efficiency of the operator does not depend wholly on his ability to read copy and follow it, but on the facility of orders to the operator.

This is a private school, supported by an organization of employers. Lessons are given at cost in order to develop the most efficient men possible for the trade. We cannot accommodate an occasional deaf student in a large class of other students. The nine other students who are paying for the time of the instructor, will not wait for him to write out the work for the deaf person. The claim that deaf persons can interpret the lips does not apply to unfamiliar technical training, so far as our experience goes.

The employers supporting this school do not feel that they can encourage the teaching of persons they do not care to employ after they have been instructed. They contend that schools for the deaf should arrange to train deaf students. Further information on the subject is contained in circular herewith.

Regretting that we cannot extend our work to include these unfortunates, we remain,

Yours very truly,
THE U. T. A. TECHNIAL SCHOOL OF PRINTING.
F. O. CLIMER, Director.

The circular mentioned is "THE DEAF-MUTE AND LINOTYPE INSTRUCTION." It is so important that it should be published in its entirety for the perusal of the American deaf. Its reasons for rejecting deaf students are not sufficiently strong, in the face of the fact that elsewhere there are successful linotype operators among the deaf. Quite a number have come to our knowledge, and they are doing as well as their hearing fellow-workers.

The circular runs thus:

THE DEAF-MUTE AND LINOTYPE INSTRUCTION.

"That a thorough knowledge of the Linotype machine and ability to operate it, is one of the shortest cuts to a good income, is conceded by all who have studied the field of employment. But the idea that Linotype operation may be acquired in a short time by any one, is a serious mistake. In this field, the price which attaches to the labor is not governed by the number of men in the business, but instead by the intellectuality and ability back of those persons who claim to be operators or machinist-operators.

In the Linotype Department, none but the proficient can be profitably employed, and there is no product of the business that can be measured and estimated so easily as o. k. Linotype composition. Because of the ease and certainty of estimations, the relation of product to expense is better and more generally understood in this department than in any other. To install a machine calls for an investment of $3,500. To make a profit on the investment calls for an income of $1.25 per hour. A result of 32,000 ems corrected matter every eight hours must show in the proofs. This means that the operator shall easily set 5,000 ems per hour. To be proficient and maintain this speed requires a high degree of intelligence, a good knowledge of English grammar, punctuation and spelling, together with some natural mechanical ability. A full command of the faculties and senses must be had at all times; a keen appreciation of sound is especially necessary to the proper care of the machine. Every part of the machine has a note particularly its own. All the notes combined form a melody familiar only to the practical operator. A slight discord in the melody is a warning that some part of the machine is out of order and needs immediate attention to prevent breaks, delay and repair expenses. Thus to maintain the necessary speed, unobstructed work is required. Continual breaks, delays in communicating orders or other interferences will not be tolerated by the man who pays the bills. The employer, after all, is the umpire in this game of business. His decision must ever regulate the trade school, so long as he, more than any other, is supporting the trade school. His money is put into it in order to raise the standard of the employee. If the trade school does not maintain a standard of proficiency above the ordinary, there is little if any excuse for its existence.

The same difficulties encountered by the employer in saving the machine and in communicating orders, are experienced in the class-room where the deaf student is attempting, with others who can hear, to master the machine. It is impossible to properly educate a deaf student under these conditions. His presence in a class of sixteen other students is obviously unjust to all members of the class. To stop and write out instruction for him is robbing fifteen others of the time which is theirs by right of purchase. On the other hand, to pass over the points without giving him a thorough understanding, is an injustice to the one who cannot comprehend the instruction through word of mouth.

The constantly repeated assertion that the deaf student can interpret the movements of the lips of the instructor, does not agree with experience at the School. It is true that many can read ordinary conversation, but the technic of the machine, or other unfamiliar talk, does not lend itself readily to this method of communication, and we find that the student does not interpret sufficient of such talk to comprehend the instruction. Consequently, it has been necessary to write out most of the instruction thus far given to deaf students.

Of all deaf students who have gone forth from this class of the School, only one, so far as we have been able to learn, has in any measure made good, and the exception has not been successful to an extent that should encourage others in a similar investment. This experience leads to the conclusion that attempts to instruct deaf persons in mixed classes is wrong and should not be continued.

If profitable employment in this line may be procured for deaf students, their instruction in an institution for the deaf would add a branch which might become financially profitable. The trade school as now established and supported does not afford a good opportunity in Linotype for the deaf student."

DEAFNESS is the chief reason for refusing to take deaf students, so this exclusion places a ban on the deaf as far as linotype operating in Indianapolis is concerned. Thus chances for employment among the deaf are seriously reduced on this score.

But in New York the case is widely different. While Indianapolis has left the deaf out in the cold, New York receives them with open arms, as the following letter from the Mergenthaler Linotype Company shows:—

"In reply to your inquiry as to whether we take deaf-mutes as students, we are inclosing herewith circulars outlining the conditions under which students are admitted to our instruction department at our factory in Brooklyn.

As to whether they make successful Linotype operators, the writer has personal knowledge of several deaf-mutes who have made very good operators, but in every case they were printers before they took up the work of operating the Linotype. The only instance of a blind person operating our machine that we have knowledge of, is the one mentioned in the December Linotype Bulletin.

Yours very truly,
MERGENTHALER LINOTYPE COMPANY,
L. A. HOMSTRIN,
Editor The Linotype Bulletin.

The "conditions" mentioned are: A Regular student must be either a purchaser or user of the Linotype, or the employee of such purchaser or user; if an employee, he must get a letter of introduction from his employer; this letter should state that the employer desires that the bearer shall take the Linotpye Company's course of instruction, and that he is to return to his employ at the end of the course; the student must be an experienced compositor or have a practical knowledge of the printing business. There are other conditions such as required comformity to the rules and regulations of the Instruction Room, paying traveling expenses, board, and incidental expenses, etc., but not one of them requires that only hearing persons be admitted.

The Inland Printing Company, of Chicago, also admits that deaf students, and commends them as successful Linotype operators.

So the Indianapolis printing office needs to rub the scales from its eyes. It is about a thousand years behind the times.

Now that we have given the facts, Mr. Berg should go to work and set his local school of printing right as far as the deaf are concerned.

We have reported progress, and are now awaiting developments—results.

Yours respectfully,
B. R. ALLABOUGH.
Chairman.

ANTON SCHROEDER,
Treas. De l'Epee Mem. Statue Com.
2172 Carroll Ave., St. Paul, Minn.
January 20, 1915.

Some idea of the nation-wide interest in the De l'Epee Memorial project is indicated in the above report of the Treasurer in which returns are shown from States east, west, north, south and central—New York, Washington, Iowa Arkansas and Missouri. In addition to the above, returns have been reported from Minnesota, Mississippi, New Mexico, Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, North Carolina and the New England States. All these States will, of course, be heard from again and again, as well as those from which no returns as yet have been reported.

The De l'Epee memorial project is popular, State agents are efficient and enthusiastic local helpers are interested and active, and the outlook for continued steady growth of the fund is most hopeful.

IT is pretty well known throughout the United States that George W. Veditz is endowed with versatility in any number of intellectual and practical lines of human endeavor, in many to a degree that approximates real genius. His facile pen has wrought wonders by its forceful presentation of live topics that interest the deaf. It has inspired and thrilled, amused and instructed, aided and uplifted, thousands of deaf-mutes, while it has exasperated and confounded those who, unwittingly, deliberately, or ignorantly, have given public expression to an attitude that vitally menaces their welfare. Veditz is a philosopher, a scholar, a clear and deep thinker, and when he says anything, either on paper or on the platform, it causes the readers or listeners to sit up and take notice.

But up to the present time, we have not known that he is a champion in the difficult and complex game of chess, a game that includes generalship, strategy, foresight, boldness and accuracy of purpose. According to a Colorado Springs newspaper, with fifty-one others, he was opposed to Frank J. Marshall, the American Chess Champion, at the El Paso Club of Colorado Springs, in a simultaneous contest, and was the only one to win the match. Mr. Marshall gave him one of his chess books, marked: "To George W. Veditz, for his fine game this evening, February 4th, Colorado Springs, Colorado. F. J. Marshall." All the big guns of the town were present to witness the match, and it does speak volumes for the cause of the deaf that one of their number should have acquitted himself so brilliantly. The sub-normal idea that is so often exploited to the detriment of the deaf, must have received a decided and permanent setback, and in one locality at least the impression will be fixed, that deafness is only lack of hearing and of itself is no indication or proof of impaired mental and executive ability.

"JIMMIE" MEAGHER, as chief of the Impostor Police Force, is making a big noise. As we predicted when he accepted the thorny seat that President Howard vacated and sent to him, he is surely a success. In the New York Sun, one day last week, mention is made of the "Impostor Bureau" which "Mr. J. Frederick Meagher is directing," in a coast to coast campaign for legislation that will provide special penalties for feigning deafness. Another newspaper, the Daily Argus-Leader of Sioux Falls, Dakota, under date of February 24th, has a column of editorial in the same strain of severity against impostors. From Androscoggin to Yuba Dam the impostors are getting scared, and they will be obliged to lay low, like Brer Rabbit, or develop muscle at the State rock piles.

A SCHEME to start day schools for the deaf in Minnesota was nipped in the bud by a timely letter from Mr. Jay Cooke Howard. Representatives Konzen and North introduced in the House a bill to appropriate money for day-school education of the deaf, but upon the reading of Mr. Howard's letter by Representative Rebenack the House promptly killed the bill. Representative North threatens to ask for a reconsideration. He is one of the investigation committee looking into conditions at the Faribault school.

FAKER IS TARGET OF THE DEAF

WAR DECLARED ON "PANHANDLER" BY 85,000 AFFLICTED PERSONS.

War has been declared on "deaf and dumb" fakers by 85,000 bona fide deaf persons throughout the country. Through their various associations, schools and publications they have inaugurated a fight to force out of existence the "panhandling" impostor with the "help the deaf" placard on cap or breast.

"The deaf never beg" is the declaration which is made to the general public in enlisting it in the aid of the 85,000 to push the compaign. J. D. Sullivan of the Silent Athletic club of Chicago has been appointed state chief to run down and bring impostors to justice in Illinois, and the present legislatnre will be asked to vote into law a bill to provide a means of apprehending them.

"There are few if any deaf beggars," said Francis P. Gibson, grand secretary of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf. "With our schools in every state where most of the trades are taught, we have no need of charity and do not ask it. But the work of the fake deaf-mute is making it very hard for the bona fide deaf to get work."

"It is an almost invariable fact that a person appealing for help as deaf is a faker," declared E M. Rowse of the same office. "It is very rarely that a genuine deaf panhandler is seen. We get after them harder than after the fakers. The greatest difficulty which we have to contest in our struggle to eliminate the impostors is the matter of securing convictions.

"There are about 2,000 deaf persons in the city of Chicago, nearly every one of whom is engaged at some gainful trade. There are printers, tailors, machinists, chemists, bakers, clerks, farmers, in short men in all of the more usual occupations. All of these are taught in our state schools which are a tax on the people. Yet you will find fakers going about with cards imploring 'help to secure an education.' Another reason which we feel that we have for strenuous action is the fact that we believe there is located in Chicago a center and a school for training beggars in this petty graft and a place where the cards and begging literat ure are printed."—Chicago Daily News, March 2.

GALLAUDET COLLEGE.

On Sunday afternoon, February 21, the regular chapel services were dispensed with in favor of a Sunday School concert, the subject being the "Organization and Varied Work of the Salvation Army," an institution in which the undergraduates have become interested of late. The programme, as arranged by Dr. Ely, was most admirable and instructive. The collection taken at the end of the concert was tendered to the "Army" for the futherance of its relief work.

Following is a synopsis of the programme:

"Life of General Booth," by Miss Peterson '16, read orally by Miss Fowler, '16.
"Criticism of the Social Life of the Salvation Army," by Mr. Moore, '15.
"Onward Christian Soldiers," by Misses Watts, Harper and Atkins, '18.
"The class reached by the Salvation Army," by Mr. Gibson, '18.
"Social Life of the Salvation Army," by Mr. Andrewjeski, '16.
"Financial Management," Mr. Marshall, '17.
"Prayer," Dr. Fay.

The "Mock Trial" presented by the Senior class, on Friday evening, February 26th, was something of a novelty at Gallaudet, yet nevertheless, all who were present enjoyed it immensely, if we except Rendall, '16, who was forced to go through the hair-raising ordeal of standing trial for murder. We are tolerably certain, however, that "John L, Jr.," will walk in a straight chalk mark hereafter, and painstakingly eschew the alluring charms of those dazzling soubrettes of the Olive Cafe, his favorite beanery. The entertainment was wholly informal, it being hit upon by the overworked "Arrangements" Committee of the Literary Society, when it discovered that there would be no time for arranging a regular program. Under the circumstances, the participants deserve much commendation for the smoothness and dash with which they carried off their parts. The work of Moore, '15, and Foltz, '15, as attorneys, and Andrewjeski, '16, as the perpetrator of the crime, were particularly good.

Following is the cast of characters.

Judge Mr. Erickson, '03
Prosecuting Attorney E. S. Foltz, '15
Defendant's Attorney..... F. A. Moore, '15
The Victim Herald Newman, '18
The Accused.....J. L Rendall, '16
The Culprit.....Frank Andrewjeski, '16
The Jury—Misses Burt, '15 and Kate, '15; Messrs. Stewart, '99, C. Thompson, '16, A. D. Martin, '16, and R. R. Shannon, '16.

The Saturday Night Dramatic Club announces its intention to present a play, entitled "Followed by Fate," on Saturday evening, March 13th. As it is the first performance to be given by the club this year, it is hoped that it will receive the cordial support of the undergraduates and the Alumni of the vicinity.

We never knew that Patterson, '14, possessor of that famous brick-colored mop, was guilty of owning a sister; at least, not till "Judge" Erickson empaneled Miss "Patterson" as one the jurors at the mock trial. "Patty" was exonerated of all blame, though, when the fair would-be juror (or juroress) turned out to be Miss Patterson, '16. "Patty" is to be congratulated. Just think of what a rumpus there would be if Patty had a sister and she supported the Allies!

Monocles and opera-glasses have been put in "hock" till next year, and deep, unfathomable gloom has resumed its own on the "Green.". All of which means that the Annual Public Exhibition of the O. W. L. S. has come and gone, leaving in its wake one long track and trail of splendor, without an error or a slip to dim its brilliancy and delicacy.

The Exhibition, which was held in Chapel Hall on Saturday evening, Febauary 20th, was an unqualified success from all points of view. We would not, nor could we, if we so desired, detract one mite from the commendation and praise which our Co Eds received from the audience as the guerdon of their splendid, gaaceful work. On the contrary, we would rather add to that praise; we would rather enlarge upon the commendation which they so justly merit.

We should like to elaborate upon the performance; we should like to describe in its entirety all the willowy, filmy loveliness of the participants; all the finesse and polish of their acting; all the dreamy grace of movement displayed in their dancing; all the tastefulness of the stage and its settings; but lack of space forbids. We would say, however, that the work of the Misses Fowler, '16, Keely, '16, M. Pearson, '17, L. Watts, '18, and McAvoy, ex-'18, was par excellence and made a strong "hit" with the audience.

Below is a transcript of the programme:—

Essay—"Clocks".....Miss Kuta, '15
Playette—'An Open Secret,".....College Girl, Miss Fowler, '16; Her Mother, Miss Harper, '18; Her Sister, Miss Keeley, '16; Her College Friends, Misses Sadelmyer, '16, Rumsey, 16, M. Pearson, '17, L. Watts, '18, Atkins, '18, Post P. C.
Monologue—"The Lady or the—Rat!".....Miss Fowler, '16
Declamation—"O Why Should the Spirit of Mortal be Proud?"....Miss Gwin, '17
Train scene—Conductor, Miss Kuta, '15; Old Maid, Miss Rumsey, '16; Young Man, Miss E. Pearson, '17; Young Lady, Miss M. Pearson, '17; Other Passengers, Misses Hoisington, '17, and Studt, '18.
"Coppelia," a Masque from Hoffman—Dr. Coppelius, creator of Mechanical Toys, Miss Harper, '18; wanilda, the beauty of the village, Miss McAvoy, ex-'18; Franz, Swanilda's Lover, Miss Fowler, '16; "Coppelia," a life-sized doll, arrayed as a ballet-dancer. Miss Lula Watts, '18; Friends of Swanilda, Misses Keeley, '16, Rumsey, '16, M. Pearson, '17, Mokko, '18. A kins, '18, Daves P. C. Sawtell P. C.: Dolls. "Heap Big Injun," Miss Boggs, '18, "John Chinaman," Miss Loveall, '18, "Dutch Lovers," Misses Studt, '18, and Toombs, '18; Baby Doll, Miss Keeley, '16.

ATHLETIC NOTES.

Basket-Ball has been shoved into its old cubby-hole, and King Baseball sits on his throne. Most any day the curious may observe the baseball "possibilities and has-beens," getting the kinks out of their throwing arms, and pounding the old pill to the corners of the lot.

Capt. Rockwell frankly admits that a short-stopping job is good enough for him, since he tried to gather in a few of "Old Man" Rasmussen's forty-two centimeter shells. Rassy was still beginning to use his old smoke, they came over so fast that they fairly burnt the skin off "Rocky's" palms.

The basket-ball team closed its schedule with the New York deaf-mute aggregation, whom they shelled and sunk without much trouble. The Buff and Blue lads took it easy all the way, and won in a romp. The score was 39 to 27.

Through an oversight, we failed to mention in our last letter the distinct success achieved by the Gallaudet grapplers in the National Guard Wrestling Tournament. Gallaudet entered four men, all of whom qualified for the finals. In the finals, three of the Buff and Blue's entries won first-place gold medals in their respective classes, these being Gilbert '18—120 lbs., Mc Inturff '17—158 lbs., and Davis '17—heavyweight class. This was a splendid showing, and had Gallaudet won in one more class, she would have carried off the Team Trophy.

St. Louis Briefs.

One of the anti-impostor law petitions recently forwarded to Jefferson City contained 101 signatures.

Mr. Arnot, of Indiana, father of our George Washington, was the guest of his son in this city recently and met his new daughter-in-law for the first time.

Mr. A. O. Steidemann gave the special reading of the course, on the evening of March 26th, taking for his subject one of Churchill's most interesting works, "Conniston."

The Rt. Rev. F. F. Johnson, D.D., Bishop Coadjutor of Missouri, will visit St. Thomas' Mission on the afternoon of Sunday, March 28th, for the purpose of administering the Apostolic rite of Confirmation.

Collectors for the De l'Epee Statue Fund have been busy hereabouts for quite a while. So far Mr. Stumpe leads them all in the matter of amount collected for the fund in St. Louis.

Mr. Gussie Bremer is the star player of the indoor base-ball team of the South Side Turnverein. He has pitched many games, and won all but one of the fourteen games played to date. Gussie is also a diamond star, and may eventually get into the big league.

The engagement of Mr. Theodore Kellner, of Omaha, and Miss Blanche Pelz of this city, is announced. The marriage is expected to take place some day in June.

Mr. Abraham Bloom, originally of Chicago, a graduate of the Illinois School, who faded away from St. Louis, a few years ago, is again blooming in our fair city, attracted hither by the opening of a new shoe factory.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Whiston have returned to Kansas City, after having spent some three weeks in St. Louis. Mr. Whiston was Miss Alice M. Gregory, a graduate of the Kansas School, and a former student at Gallaudet College. The Whistons made a very favorable impression in St. Louis.

Miss Russell, of the faculty of Gallaudet School, had charge of the program for the February meeting of the Gallaudet Union, and arranged quite a treat for the intellectual. Miss Barnick, Mrs. Whitson, Mrs. Temple, Messrs. Steidemann, Bloch and Arnot, took part in the program. Miss Herdman has charge of the literary features for the next meeting on March 19th.

The annual entertainment given under the auspices of the Patrons Association of Gallaudet School, will be held at the usual place, Strassberger Hall, South Grand and Shenandoah Avenues, on the evening of April 17th. The program for the evening will be arranged by Miss Herdman.

PHILADELPHIA.

News items for this column should be sent to James S. Reider, 1538 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

An audience that completely filled the Guild room in All Souls' Parish House greeted Dr. E. H Currier, Principal of the New York Institution for the Deaf, on the occasion of his lecture on Laurent Clerc, before Clerc Literary Association, on Saturday evening, February 27th. He arrived at the Parish House early enough to allow a complete inspection of the building, before giving his lecture, under Mrs. M. J. Syle's guidance, and expressed both surprise and pleasure at the beauty and size of the rooms.

It was half past eight when President Stevens called the meeting to order, and introduced Dr. Currier in a few choice words. And then there rose up before us the tall, stately form of the lecturer, whose military bearing impressed us, though, instead of an uniform, he wore full dress. After making a courtly bow, he expressed his pleasure at the opportunity of meeting the Philadelphia deaf again and took occasion to make a sly dig at the JOURNAL correspondent, who sat close to the platform, by saying that his trip to this city had not been made on the "hoss-cars." Well, his fine appearance and buoyant spirit compelled us to believe that he told the truth.

In his introductory remarks, Dr. Currier complimented the Clerc Literary Association on the approach of its Golden Jubilee and the intention to celebrate it. He then gave an excellent biographical sketch of the life of Laurent Clerc, the great deaf benefactor of the deaf in America, and namesake of the Association before which he appeared. He expressed the belief that the incident in Clerc's early life which is said to have caused his affliction, may have been part of the Divine providence to prepare him for a life of beneficence among his class of people in later life. He showed Clerc to have been remarkably successful in his studies, in his native country, and in his rapid acquisition of an English vocabulary to fit him for the work in America. He offered samples of Clerc's English, which he had mastered in so comparatively a short time as to make him appear nothing less than a genius. And lastly, but not leastly, he elaborated on the beautiful and unselfish spirit by Clerc in leaving home, family and friends, to benefit his fellow deaf in a strange country. Having received freely, he gave freely. That was the CLERC SPIRIT, a noble spirit, indeed; and one which all educated deaf should be imbibed with for the welfare of their fellow-deaf and countrymen.

Dr. Currier again praised the intention of holding a jubilee celebration as a most excellent opportunity to honor the memory of Clerc, and he wished it all manner of success, and a happy and profitable time for all.

Hearty applause greeted the lecturer at his conclusion, and a vote of thanks was tendered him.

Following short addresses were made by Mrs. Geo. T. Sanders, Messrs. H. E. Stevens, Geo. T. Sanders, Washington Houston and Mrs. M. J. Syle.

Dr. Currier was asked to tell something about the system of military instruction given at his school and of which he is the father. He finally gave in, apologizing that he was prodded by Mrs. Sanders to "drum" his own work before the eyes of those present. He told some surprising things about the Fanwood Military Band, and we doff our hats low to the silent musicians.

After the meeting, the people were given an opportunity to meet Dr. Currier.

Miss Gertrude M. Downey, of Lititz, Pa., came to Philadelphia, on February 26th, and is stopping with Mrs. Kate Hoopes. One object of her visit, is to have her eyes treated while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Scott, of Frankford, are the happy parents of a boy, born on February 20th. They have two girls besides. Mr. Scott originally came from England and his wife from Ireland.

Miss Lillian Peacock, of Camden, N. J., and Mr. Ludwig Rebstock, of this city, were married on February 20th. The ceremony, which took place at the bride's home, was performed by the Rev. C. O. Dantzer.

Mr. William H. Poole, who was confined to the house by illness for about seven weeks, is about again.

Rev. C. O. Dantzer gave the inmates of the Home for the Aged and Infirm Deaf a service on Sunday morning, February 28th, and then went to Trenton, N. J, to conduct his monthly service there. The service at All Souls' was in charge of a lay-reader.

Four steel lockers have been placed in the Guild Room at All Souls' Parish House, and more will be installed later. They will be a needed convenience.

A social meeting was held by the Clerc Literary Association, on Thursday evening, February 26th.

The first two Wednesday evening Lenten services at All Souls' Church have been well attended, the number being between forty and fifty.

The Pipes at Lucknow.

AN INCIDENT OF THE RELIEF OF LUCKNOW DURING THE INDIAN MUTINY, 1857-8.

Pipes of the misty moorlands,
Voice of the glens and hills;
The droning of the torrents,
The treble of the rills!

Not the braes of broom and heather,
Nor the mountain dark with rain,
Nor maiden bower, nor border tower,
Have heard your sweetest strain!

Dear to the Lowland reaper,
And plaided mountaineer,—
To the cottage and the castle
The Scottish pipes are dear;—

Sweet sound the ancient pibroch
O'er mountain, loch, and glade;
But the sweetest of all music
The pipes at Lucknow played.

Day by day the Indian tiger
Louder yelled and nearer crept;
Round and round the jungle-serpent
Near and nearer circles swept.

"Pray for rescue, wives and mothers,— Pray to-day!" the soldier said;
"For to-morrow death's between us
And the wrong and shame we dread."

Oh, they listened, looked and waited,
Till their hopes became despair;
And the sobs of low bewailing
Filled the pauses of their prayer.

Then up spake a Scottish maiden,
With her ear unto the ground:
"Dinna ye hear it?—dinna ye hear it?
The pipes o' Havelock sound!"

Hushed the wounded man his groaning;
Hushed the wife her little ones;
Yet they only heard the drum-roll
And the roar of Sepoy guns.

But to sounds of home and childhood
The Highland ear was true;
As her mother's cradle-crooning,
The mountain pipes she knew.

Like the march of soundless music
Through the vision of the seer,—
More of feeling than of hearing,
Of the heart than of the ear,

She knew the droning pibroch,
She knew the Campbell's call:
"Hark! hear ye no' MacGregor's,—
The grandest o' them all!"

Oh, they listened, dumb and breathless,
And they caught the sound at last;
Faint and far beyond the Goomtee
Rose and fell the piper's blast!

Then a burst of wild thanksgiving
Mingled woman's voice and man's:
"God be praised!—the march of Havelock!
'Tis the piping of the clans!"

Louder, nearer, fierce as vengeance,
Sharp and shrill as swords at strife,
Came the wild MacGregor's clan-call,
Stinging all the air to life.

But when the far-off dust-cloud
To plaided legions grew,
Full tenderly and blithesomely
The pipes of rescue blew!

Round the silver domes of Lucknow,
Moslem mosque and Pagan shrine,
Breathed the air to Britons dearest.
The air of "Auld Lang Syne";

O'er the cruel roll of war-drums
Rose that sweet and homelike strain;
And the tartan clove the turban,
As the Goomtee cleaves the plain.

Dear to the corn-land reaper,
And plaided mountaineer—
To the cottage and the castle
The piper's song is dear;

Sweet sounds the Gaelic pibroch
O'er mountain, glen, and glade,
But the sweetest of all music
The pipes at Lucknow played!

If You Don't want Your House To Burn—

Don't go into closets looking for clothing with a lighted match.

Don't kindle fires in stoves with kerosene.

Don't put hot ashes and coal in wood-barrels or boxes.

Don't thaw out frozen water pipes with a torch or lamp.

Don't allow waste paper, excelsior and rubbish to collect

Don't use gasoline for cleaning in a closed room.

Don't look for gas leaks with a match or lamp.

Don't allow lace curtains near gas brackets.

Don't allow oily rags near stoves or about the premises.

Don't allow sawdust to be used in cuspidors or on floors.

Don't throw waste paper in a fireplace.

Don't throw cigarettes or cigars away if lighted.

Don't keep matches in paper boxes or lying about carelessly.

Don't use snapping parlor matches; taboo them.

Don't forget that matches are the beginning of many conflagrations.

Don't hang your clothing near open fires or stoves.

Don't fill lamps after dark, and never when lighted.

Don't allow rubbish in hallways or in fires escapes.

Don't burn leaves and dead grass on windy days.

Don't forget to have the chimneys of your home cleaned once a year.

Don't fail to look twice at everything that looks like fire.

Don't leave everything to the landlord; inspect your own building.

Don't fail to give the fire department representatives every opportunity to make a careful examination of your property. They are trying to help you.

Don't fail to notify the chief of the fire department of anything you may see that is dangerous and liable to cause fire, remembering that every day is fire prevention day.—Selected.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column, should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or on a postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

George Washington was born on the 22d of February—so was Henry Peters. Accordingly, his friends decided to give him a surprise in form of a party. Henry was lured away to the rooms of the Union League, and held there until it was time to spring the surprise. Poor boy, he little knew what was in store for him. His brother Joe had insisted on his returning home at 8:30. He certainly got the surprise of his life.

Those present were the Misses Sarah Pusrin, Margaret Schaefer, Elsie Sonn, Bessie Caplan, Stella Kind, Selma Frankenthaler, Annie Hamburger, Lilian Robinson, the Messrs. Adi Flegenheimer, Julius Seandel, Lawrence W. Weinberg, Charles Schatzkin, Lester Hyams, Leo Berzon, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Peters. Keith Morris had sent a telegram of congratulations and regrets.

Numerous games were indulged in. Miss Robinson won a beautiful handkerchief in the guessing contest. Mr. Hyams won a necktie for being able to draw the most natural looking pig, blindfolded. Miss Sonn and Mr. Berzon won the contest of blowing a paper cone across a string. Her prize was an embroidered collar. Mr. Leo Berzon won a fancy flask, entitled "One of the boys."

Other games were in progress when supper was announced. The dining room was appropriately decorated for the occasion. Red, white and blue were the predominating colors. The table was also decorated to commemorate the occasion. On the centre lay a huge prize pie, which was not to be opened until the end. There was a birthday cake with 22 candles and each guest received a souvenir, the girls a miniature cherry tree and the boys a miniature tree-stump. The supper was as follows:

Grape Fruit au maraschino
Chicken Salad Rudesheimer
Tongue and Cheese sandwiches
Port Wine
Chocolate cake Stuffed dates and prunes
Candy Ice Cream Mocha-tart
Coffee Peach cordial

The chocolate cake had been a secret and was baked by Mother Peters herself. She had hidden three little doll babies in it, which were captured by the Misses Sonn and Pusrin, ann Henry Peters. Henry received a beautiful diamond scarf-pin from his brother and sisters-in-law.

When it came to the opening of the pie, Miss Pusrin received a mule, Miss Frankenthaler a battleship, Miss Hamburger a piano, Miss Robinson a horse and cart, Miss Kind a stein, Miss Schaefer a chair, Mr. Seandel a fox, Schatzkin a Kewpie, Hyams, a stein, Berzon a hot-water bag, Adi Flegenheimer, a parasol, Henry Peters a horse and cart.

Much credit is due to Mrs. Joseph Peters' untiring effort to bring the affair the such success and to which effort Mr. Lawrence Weinberg lent a kindly hand.

The basket-ball games and dance, given by the Clark Silent Five of Clark House, held at Murray Hill Lyceum last February 22d, met with great success. Credit for the affair should be given to Henry Hecht and Louis Baker.

To bring further interest to the games and dancing, the management secured the presence of Al Reich, the heavyweight boxer.

The first game to be played was between the Lexington Deaf-Mutes and New York Stock Exchange. To begin with, the game was fast and exciting, but the pace began to tell, and the mutes showed their staying powers by outclassing the Wall Street Champions. The first half ended 20–8 in favor of Lexingtons, and finally, 30–8.

The Elemendorf Boys of Elmendorf Chapel went down to defeat at the hands of the Harlem Five of the 125th Street Y. M. C. A. Elmendorf pulled out ahead at the end of the first half, but the weight of the opposing players told, and they lost 20–9.

The last game of the evening between the All Collegiate Stars and the Clark Silent Five was the thriller of the evening, and the crowd was constantly at its wits' end whether they were on their feet or heads.

The Stars were the first to score. Hecket put a neat basket for a tally that brought rounds of applause. It was from a very difficult angle. But the deaf boys did not hold the lead long. When the whistle blew it was found the deaf boys were at the short end of 5–2. This shows the closeness and swiftness of the game.

The deaf boys tied the score at 8 all near the end of the game, and then by swift passing and clever dribbling and dodging managed to forge ahead. When the whistle blew the crowd sat down in relief and expressed their opinions in glowing terms. The larger end of the hyphen belonged to Clark. The score stood 11–9. The Clark boys one and all covered themselves with glory, and more stood higher than the other. Following is the line-up of all teams:

The reading by Mr. W. W. Thomas, of Yonkers, N. Y., on "Tess of the Stormy Country," was a successful one. It was given in the hall on Bushwick Avenue and Jefferson Street, under the auspices of the Guild of St. Matthew's. The hall was large and spacious, well lighted and prettily decorated with the national colors. The subject of the lecture was the well-known novel, which has enough action in the plot to adapt it for use by the moving picture companies of the country. The number of deaf present was a good one, considering that on the evening some five societies had sociable or patriotic meetings. The interpreter wrapped up in his story, and conveyed the plot of the story graphically. Mr. Thomas is an easy signer, who suits the action to the word, and the two hours spent in following his interpretation passed only too quickly. May we have the pleasure of seeing a similar good story signed to the deaf.

Mr. L A. Cohen has been engaged by Brooklyn Division, No 23, N. F. S. D., to give a dramatic reading on "Rigoletto," at Masonic Hall of Park and Tilford Building, Lenox Avenue near 125th Street, on Saturday evening, May 8th, 1915.

Mr. Cohen is well-known as a sign maker, and his past readings and lectures given before the various deaf-mute organizations, both in New York and out-of-town, have always been appreciated to the full extent by his audiences.

The committee in charge of this affair, headed by Mr. Jacob Landau, assure all those who attend a first-class literary best. The price of admission is twenty-five cents. Tickets can be secured from any of the following committee or from members of Brooklyn Division, No. 23. J. Landau, Chairman; M. Auerbach, Harry J. Goldberg, Leopold Frey, Joseph Zeiss

Under the auspices of the Alphabet Athletic Club, of the Boys' Club, a First Annual Dance was held at the auditorium of the Boys' Club, Tenth Street and Avenue A, last Saturday evening, February 27th There were about one hundred and fifty guests, enjoying dancing, and the affair proved to be a success. Mr Brown, lightweight pugilist champion, known as "Knockout Brown," was a distinguished guest and led the grand march with his partner, Miss Harrington, a deaf mute. A dance contest for prizes was conducted. The judges were Messrs. M. Pincus, M. Seaman and J. Dietz. The winners were Misses Silberman, Lonsdale and Lizzie Maclaire, and Messrs. J. Bohlman, H. Goldberg and L. Davis.

The object of the club is for athletic as well as social purposes. It has secured an opportunity to spend two weeks in camping on Long Island Sound every summer. If any one is interested regarding the same, will please address Mr. Abe Miller, 165 Broome Street, New York City.

The members of the Woman's Parish Aid Society wish to announce that Rev. John H. Keiser, the curate, will read several of Edgar Allan Poe's most famous tales Saturday evening, March 20th. Since this subject is to be a worthwhile one, and is given by the reader, who is a wonderful master of signs, and who never fails to interest his audiences, it is hoped all will come and bring friends. Admission, twenty cents.

Mr. Louis A. Cohen has been the recipient of numerous letters of congratulations and telegrams and handshakes, due to the fact that he was presented with a loving cup by Fanwood pupils who attend the Sunday School Classes of which he has charge. This was done in token of their appreciation for valuable services rendered, which proved instructive as well as beneficial. Congratulations.

WASHINGTON.

No, ma'am, we have not been asleep, although one might be tempted to think so on account of the absence of news from this town in the JOURNAL. Perhaps this is due to the fact that we have been too busy to write. The National Literary Society is still litting; the local Division of the N. F. S. D. is fratting along as nicely as you please; the two Church Missions to the deaf have been holding their services and social meetings as regularly and as frequently as before; and some of us have been going the round of parties, socials, receptions, etc., etc., so much that we are thinking of putting the bed out in the woodshed or selling it to the second-hand furniture man. What Washington wants is some one who will write to the esteemed DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL about once in so often and tell the rest of the United States what we have been doing and what we are going to do, telling the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth as near as he can; if he chooses to get off a witticism about some of us now and then, we can take a joke as well as most folks.

While waiting for this model correspondent to appear upon the scene, we will choronicle a few recent happenings in this town before they are forgotten altogether.

The National Literary Society had its regular monthly meeting for February on the 4th of this month. At the meeting, which was unusually well attended, Dr. Charles R. Ely gave an interesting, instructive, talk on his hobby, Insects. Under the heading of "Current Topics," Mr. John T. Flood told of some of the events connected with the trouble in Mexico; Mr. Jacob B. Eskin gave a "reading" of the celebrated Dreyfus Case in an able manner; Mrs. A. F. Adams and Mr. Wm. Pfunder gave an amusing dialogue; and Miss Stansbury signed a poem. The membership of the Society has been increasing, and one or two new members have been added to its rolls at nearly every meeting.

The local Division of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf is growing apace and interest therein has correspondingly increased. As it is a secret organization, we cannot tell folks just what it has been doing; if you want to find out, ask State Organizer Pfunder, who has a plentiful supply of membership application blanks, and a glib tongue.

St. Barnabas Mission to the Deaf had an Oyster Supper in the Parish Hall of Trinity Episcopal Church, on the evening of February 13th. Calvary Baptist Mission had its regular monthly social in the Sunday School room of that church. Both affairs were well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all participants. We have not the time or space for details. If we should undertake to narrate all that has happened in this town since the last Washington letter in the JOURNAL, Editor Hodgson would have to issue a supplement.

Mrs. James Moylan, of Wilmington, N. C., stopped over in Washington for a couple of weeks on her way home from New York City. Mrs. Moylan has a pleasant personality and made a number of new friends while here, in addition to reviving friendships of auld lang syne.

Mesdames Moore and Wilson, of Toronto, Canada, have been visiting the city. It is understood that they are on their way north from Florida.

Mrs. Rush, of Pittsburgh, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. A. Boland, is expected to return to Pittsburgh this week.

Another visitor to the city, who has just returned home, was Miss Helen Fish, who came to visit Miss M. E. Kipp and to keep her company while she was recovering from her recent illness. Miss Kipp being now as well as ever—if not more so—Miss Fish followed the example being set by the birds and flew northward to her home in Connecticut.

Mrs Boland entertained a few friends in her apartments in the Ontario in honor of her sister, Mrs. Rush, and Mesdames Moore and Wilson, on the evening of February 15th. It was also an anniversary of Mrs. Boland's advent on this mundane sphere, but we will not say which anniversary. The evening was passed very pleasantly in conversation, in various games, and in doing justice to the tasty refreshments provided by the hostess.

Mrs. Merrill gave an informal reception on the evening of February 16th, in honor of Mrs. Moylan and Miss Fish. Among the guests were Mesdames Rush, of Pittsburgh, and Moore and Wilson, of Toronto, who shared the honors with the other ladies mentioned. Despite the fact that the house was filled to its capacity, every one present had a good time. Mrs. Merrill regretted her inability to invite other friends to assist in doing honor to the visitors, being obliged to cut her suit (guest list) according to her cloth (size of the house).

The fact that Lent began on February 17th, caused a let-up in the social activity among the deaf of the Capital City. Rev. Mr. Merrill, in charge of the Episcopal Mission, has arranged a series of special Lenten services to be held in the chapel of Trinity Church at 8 P.M. Tuesday evenings.

The Bishop of Washington, the Rt. Rev. Alfred Harding, D. D., made his annual visitation to Trinity Epicopal Church on the evening of February 21st. Among the candidates for confirmation were several deaf people, Mrs. M. Ballard, Mr. Cyrus Chambers, and Misses Boggs, Stephenson, and Roberts of Gallaudet College, who were presented by the Rev. Mr. Merrill and partly by Dr. Hall, president of Gallaudet College, for the benefit of the deaf people in the congregation. At the conclusion of the service, the Bishop greeted the class, shaking hands and saying a few words of greeting to each. Beatrice, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill, was also a member of the class.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lowell entertained Mesdames Moore, Moylan, and Wilson at dinner on February 18th, and also gave a social in their honor that evening. Approximately twenty guests were present to enjoy the hospitality of the Lowells and to partake of the delicious ice cream and cake served by the hostess. The Lowells have a nice new home in Takoma Park, well-built and well-planned, the plans having been made largely by Mr. Lowell himself.

Another social gathering worthy of note was that given by Mrs. Boland on the evening of February 26th. Our limited space prevents our doing full justice to the occasion, but we must say that it was a very enjoyable one, pleasant conversation, games and delicious refreshments all contributing to make it so.

The members of the local Branch of the College Alumni Association were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Chambers, at their home in Cliffbourne Place, Wednesday evening, February 24th. Much of the time was occupied in discussion of amendments to the rules of the Branch rendered necessary by changes in the Constitution and Bylaws of the parent organization, but this work was laid on the shelf in ample time to enable all all hands to enjoy the Chambers' hospitality and to partake of the fine collation provided by Mrs. Chambers.

Coming events for March:—

4. N. L. S. meeting, Flynn's Hall, 8 p.m.

7. Service, Trinity Chapel, 11 a.m.

9. Lenten Service, Trinity Chapel, 8 p.m.

13. N. F. S. D. meeting, Eagle's Hall, 8 p.m.

14. Service, Trinity Chapel, 11 a.m. Rev. C. O. Dantzer, of Philadelphia, to preach.

14 Service, Calvary Church, 8 p.m.

But we see, in our mind's eye, Mr. Hodgson frowning ominously, so we'll quit before he begins to throw things. Hoping you won't.

HOOT MON.

That Industrial Exhibit.

I wish to again call the attention of the deaf of the country to the exhibit for the Fair at San Francisco.

As I stated in a former article in the JOURNAL, we wish ten exhibits from each state. Please attend to this matter at once and send your exhibit to the Local Committee at Frisco as soon as you possibly can.

Mr. Cameron is doing all he can to hold up his end of the work and I hope Mr. Rothert is fully awake to the value of the exhibit and is doing his part.

I note that my friend, Mr. Spear, of Minnesota, is not in favor of the exhibit. Like another well-known deaf man, I can't agree to agree with him. And at this time I am too busy to state why.

Don't let me have to prod you again. I wish to have this matter out of the way in another thirty days, as the committee has other important work to take up.

Remember! don't wait for Tom, Dick, and Mary. Be Johnny on the job. Ten exhibits from each state only would make a grand display of 500 articles.

I note in one of the l. p. f. exchanges that Dr. Tate of the Minnesota school is making an effort to secure training for some of the graduates of the Minnesota school at the school of agriculture. Wow! now there is something the entire deaf population of Minnesota can commend the Doctor on. Speed the day when we can have more and better deaf farmers. A good trade or occupation is a deaf man's big card. It matters little if he talks on his fingers, on his toes or through his whiskers, just so long as he is master of a trade, he will make good.

I lift my lid to the Superintendent of the Minnesota School, and hope to see other Superintendents follow in his lead.

LYMAN HUNT,
Chairman Industrial Bureau.

A son of Dr. J. L. Smith, of the Minnesota school, is an actor in the employ of the Selig Company at Los Angeles, Cal. His first name is Sydney, and when the cast of a Selig play is shown on the screen and the name Sydney Smith appears remember who he is.—West. Pennsylvanian.

OHIO.

[News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 993 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.

February 27, 1915.—The deaf impostor Carr, whom Mr. McGregor had rounded up at Piqua, January 1st, is an old hand at the business and got in his work down in Kentucky. He had papers sworn to by reputable persons that he was perfectly straight. He had the same excuse to give—wanting aid to attend a school for deaf.

They have a law down there, or did have, administering to dead beats a flogging. Perhaps that's why the fellow has given a wide berth to the Blue Grass Region. However, if the law is now a dead letter, it should be invoked whenever a fellow shows up in such evil designs. So Colonels of Kentucky, be on the qui vive, and give the fellow, if he shows up again, a good dose of the medicine.

Lately another impostor showed up in West Alexandria vicinity, soliciting money, under the the plea of wanting to secure an education, but soon found it a desert place and left for other parts. The people had been put on guard through Mr. Nelson I. Snyder's letters to the local paper, warning them that no real deaf man goes around asking for money to attend a school for the deaf, and to treat such beggars with contempt.

The Columbus Advance Society, at its meeting Tuesday evening, recieved reports from the various committees having to do with the late Valentine Social, the net proceeds of which reached $55.20. During the social John Dellinger, who is somewhat of a boxer and Samson, picked up William Mayer during a performance of weight lifting, and held him for some time between the ceiling and floor, much against his wishes. A torn shirt was the result, and it was moved at the society meeting to recompense Mr. Mayer for the damage to his shirt. The motion was amended that he himself should pass around the hat, which he did, and then counted out eighty cents, which his modesty refused to accept, and he passed the money over to the treasurer of the Home Fund.

John Dellinger was admitted to membership of the society. Also George Philbaum.

A committee, to arrange for the May 30th picnic, was appointed in the persons of Messrs. Schwartz, Frater and Robbins. Some purchases for the Home were also ordered.

There was no school on Washington's birthday. In the afternoon the first basketball team had the Grove City team here and gave them a beating, 80 to 16. The entertainment for the evening was of a comique and afforded the onlookers ample cause to laugh. The title of the play was:

At the end of the play the actors, mounted in a group, were shown on the stage with a portrait of Washington at the back. Ten girls in white then came in from the sides, and after Miss Alice Nesbitt's delivery of a couple of verses, they faced roundabout showing the letters on their backs "Good Night." They then advanced to the group, and Miss Nesbitt decorated the portrait of the Father of his Country with a floral wreath.

The committee in charge of the play consisted of Mr. A. H. Schorg, Misses C. M. Feasley and Julia Marshall.

Mr. O. A. B. Senter, who on a number of occasions in the past entertained the school with stereoptical exhibitions, died last Sunday, at Eustis, Florida, where he had gone to pass the winter, aged 73. He was one of the prominent citizens of Columbus and delighted to do good in worthy causes. He was connected with M. C. Lilley Regalia Company.

Mr. William King spent the 21st and 22d at Urbana, with S. W. Gledhill. Mrs. Gledhill was called to Scranton, Pa., two weeks ago, as her grandfather, who has since died, was seriously sick.

Willard McConnell, of Trinway, Walter Redmond, of Newark, and John Bostwick, of Pataskala, were the only out-of-town visitors to show up here Monday evening for the entertainment.

The O. S. S. D. basket-ball team received its first drubbing on the home grounds last Friday evening, at the hands of the Ashville High School. Score 38–25. Last evening came the second of its kind, when the Stivers H. S., Dayton, O., put it on 31 to 21. The Dayton team is the strongest of its section. It has hitherto played with O. S. S. D. always coming out way ahead. The game last evening was close at the first half then standing 15 to 19 in favor of the Gem City Boys.

The writer was down in Cincinnati, from Friday evening to Sunday evening. On the first named date he gave a talk on Lincoln, and Sunday afternoon, gave a religious address in Wesley Chapel of the Methodist Episcopal Church, on 5th Street. Both meetings were well attended. From what we could learn most of the deaf were doing well.

BALTIMORE

Mr. Wroth Hetzler, of Gallaudet College, spent Washington's Birthday at home in this city, and was accompanied by another student whose name slipped from our memory. He was at the M. E. Church last Sunday, and left for college after the services. He seems to be getting along finely.

Miss Annie Herring was laid up for two weeks, suffering from a heavy cold. She is herself again, and was able to be at church once more last Sunday.

Russell Roberts is at present visiting his relatives on the Eastern Shore, and expects to be gone till next May.

William Dix, 51 years old, found begging from door to door yesterday as a deaf and dumb man by Patrolman Tyson of the Northeastern District, was sentenced to two months in the House of Correction by Justice Dean of the Northeastern District Court this morning.

In his pocket was found $3.45, the proceeds of only a few hours' "panhandling." Dix declared that his home was in Philadelphia, and that he was anxious to get back there.

"I have had good opportunities to steal watches and jewelry several times," he said, "but thought this was a more honest way to get money. I want to go back and hear Billy Sunday."

The following note was handed in from door to door by Dix:

"Kind Frien—I am deft and dum. Pleas help me get somethin to eat."

Messrs. George Brown and William Hokemeyer, two ardent sons of Germany, are proudly wearing iron rings. Several days ago they exchanged a lot of old gold coin for the iron bands, which are being exchanged for gold and silver to bring relief to the suffering women of the Fatherland.

The Frats held a very successful Valentine Social at its hall, Saturday night, February 13th. A neat sum was realized, which greatly increased the Frat's bank roll. They are now making great preparations for a big bazzar which will be held on Saturday night, April 17th.

Prof. George H. Faupel, a teacher of Maryland School for the Deaf, passed through Baltimore recently, en route to Washington. He spent the night with Rev. D. E. Moylan, while he stopped in the city.

Rev. Michael A. Purtell, professor of the preparatory class at Loyola College, is very sick with a heavy cold. Father Purtell has been at Loyola College for the past fifteen years, and recently celebrated his fiftieth birthday. He is chaplain of the St. Francis Xavier School for Deaf Mutes at Irvington, a pretty suburb of Baltimore, and is the only confessor in Baltimore for Catholic deaf-mutes.

Mr. James B. Foxwell is at the Mercy Hospital, where he underwent an operation for a swelling on his face, near the left ear.

Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Wilson, of Canada, and Mrs. James H. Moylan, formerly of Wilmington, N. C., but now of New York, together with Mr. Bernsdorf, of Washington, D. C., were visitors at Christ M. E. Church last Sunday. Mrs. Moylan and Mrs. Moore each rendered several hymns beautifully. All of the visitors were greatly impressed with the handsome little church. During the brief stay in the city, they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Feast.

Mr. Thomas Harris, after a long absence, bobbed up at church again last Sunday. He told Rev. Moylan that he was confined to bed with a severe case of rheumatism.

LORD BALTIMORE.

Lynn, Mass.

An informal whist party was held at the home of Miss G. M. Fuller, at Lynn, Mass., on the evening of February twentieth. The affair was in honor of her fiance, Mr. Charles A. Williams, of Pawtucket, R. I.

Progressive Whist was played from eight to ten, after which a buffet lunch was served.

Prizes were awareded as follows:

First prize for ladies, Miss Furbush.

First prize for gentlemen, Mr. Charles Williams.

Consolation, Mr. Battersby.

Among those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. McNeilly and Miss Grace Furbush, of Lynn.

Charles A. Williams and Charles Newberg, of Pawtucket, R. I.

Miss F. E. Wetmore, of Wollaston, and Mr. Wm. H. Battersby, Hudson, Mass.

Miss Eaton, and Mr. R. Williams, Revere. H. L.

WHEELING.

The following is a part of Governor Hatfield's recent message to the West Virginia Legislature:—

DEAF AND BLIND SCHOOL AT ROMNEY.

I earnestly recommend that this institution be placed in the educational class. This is purely an educational school, and should have such recognition and consideration. While it is charitable in its purpose, the entire system scho l, whether it applies to the blind and deaf or to those who h ve not b en so unfortunate, should be made the fundamental foundation of this institution. Therefore, why should this institution be treated and considered in any other class than as a br nch of our free school system? I earnestly recommend the transfer of this institution from the eleemosynary to the educational class.

The Rev. Oliver J. Whildin, M.A., resigns on May 1st from Southern Dioceses, having been appointed by Rt. Rev. J. G. Murray, D.D., Bishop of Maryland and President of Third Provincial Synod, to attend permanently to the flourishing Baltimore mission. He severs his missionary work in West Virginia, of which he has done very faithful, creditable duty for eleven years.

The announcement of his resignation was received with great sorrow in St. Matthew's Church, where, on First Sunday in Lent, February 20, Rev. Mr. Whildin had two very large congregations. He administered Holy Communion in the morning and preached the beautiful story of "The Lost Boy" in the afternoon. After the afternoon service, a picture was taken in the courtyard of the church.

Heart-broken, we are still glad that Rev. Mr. Whildin will return to Wheeling by April 10th for the last time. A farewell reception may be tendered.

Under the auspices of St. Elizabeth's Deaf-Mute Guild, an enjoyable, successful swap and lunch party was given at Mr. and Mrs. William C. Seamon's on Twenty-ninth street, on Saturday evening, February 19th. Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Corbett, Mr. and Mrs Charles W. Werner and son, Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bremer, Mrs. Chap Watson, Miss Ada Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Harman Huggins, and Messrs. Herbert Stoehr, Lee Harris, Julius Andre, Arthur Jeffre, David Christmas Williams, Louis Hallem and Rev. Mr. Whildin. A flashlight picture was made by Mr. Werner.

Washington's birthday was celebrated at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Corbett, on Seneca Street, Bellaire, O., in the manner of a pie social. The parlor room was decorated with flags and bunting. A portrait of George Washington was hung upon the wall. The evening was mostly spent in giving little stories about the great Father of our country. The proceeds has fulfilled the needs, as criticised by a matron, of Eastern Ohio room of the Ohio Home for the Aged and Infirm. Those present were Mrs. Patrick Faulkner and Mrs. Watson, Misses Ada Ryan and Ada Anderson, and Messrs. David Lebow, Williams, Boyd, Jeffers, Hallem, Stoehr, and Bremer.

Since he entered the new rectorship of St. Matthew's Church on October 1, Rev. G. Freeland Peter, on Sunday afternoon, February 14, conducted an inspiring service to the deaf for the first time; Miss Nellie Corbett kindly interpreting. During the service, Rev. L. W. S. Stryker, former rector of the same church, but now of Emmanuel Church, La Granage, Illinois, came in but did not stay long, in order to catch a train, so he was given a hearty handshaking. Rev. Mr. Stryker brought much surprise and joy by his incidental presence to the reception in honor of Rev. Mr. Peter, on Friday evening before, and also made a brief address.

Rev. Mr. Peter, as arranged, will hold services on every second Sunday of each month. The rite of Confirmation takes place on Palm Sanday, March 28th.

A social party was given at Miss Anderson's, on South Front Street, on January 30th, as means of Men's Cottage Fund of Ohio Home. The participants there were nearly the same as above named.

The Wheeling Intelligencer had a picture of B. M. Yeager, delegate-elect from Pocahontas County, W. Va., to the Legislature. He is the father of several deaf children.

Mr. Marion G. Giffen is now in San Francisco, Cal., under an ear specialist's treatment. He visited the Sphinx Club and met Leo. C. Williams. He goes to Los Angeles and San Diego in about two weeks.

A hearing relative of Mrs. Lucy K. Bremer, Mr. Harry Corcoran, departed Saturday last, to take charge of West Virginia building at World's Panama-Pacific Exposition. He was appointed as custodian of the building by Governor H. D. Hatfield some time ago. Isn't it fine?

Miss Mae E. Comfort, ex-Wheelingite, has moved back to Chicago, Ill., from Los Angeles, Cal. Her address is 200 Superior Street

Mr. Elmer Elwood Conway, of Lafferty, O., was in Wheeling the other week.

Mr. and Mrs. Huggins have occupied the upper floor of Seaman's house.

FANWOOD.

Under the excellent arrangements of Miss Elsie Luf and Cadet Lieutenant Burke, another of our many happy reunions was held Saturday evening. A great many of the instruction staff were present as our guests, and shared the joy of a regular old family hop.

Ancient barn dances and the many good old-fashioned games were renewed with the same old spirit, affording the jolliest of fun. The light capers of the poetry of motion, including the most prominent of the present day Dance de Luxe rounded up near bed-time to our entire satisfaction. The social hour was unusually interesting, the teachers having good news for all.

On the 23d of February, Miss Harriette Taber, Chairman of the Ladies' Committee of the Institution, inspected the vocal and rhythmic instruction of the advanced grades, escorted by the Principal.

Miss Kittredge, of the North Carolina School, and her sister, were also guests of honor. The work has been making good headway in all its branches which were pleasing to note.

Dr. L. L. Wright, Superintendent of the Michigan School for the Deaf in Flint, Mich., spent two days as guest of our Principal. Dr. Wright was shown through the buildings and inspected the classroom work. He was exceedingly pleased with the speech and lip-reading work and thinks our routine of oral work justifies us in being called one of the finest oral schools for the deaf in America.

On Thursday we were pleased to see Mr. Thatcher M. Adams and Mr. Egerton L. Winthrop of the Board of Directors. Mr. Adams is Chairman of the Law Committee and Mr. Winthrop has charge of the Executive Committee. Both gentlemen are enthusiastic workers of the Board and it is a pleasure to see them.

Sunday morning the members of the Hebrew Congregation attending the 161st Street Synagogue celebrated Purim Day by presenting Mr. Louis A. Cohen, their teacher, with a large silver loving cup inscribed:—"Presented to Louis A. Cohen, from the Fanwood Pupils of the Hebrew Sunday School, February 28, 1915."

Accompaning the donation was an affectionate address by Cadet Lieut. Solia Gerschanek, which was read orally by Rebecca Champagne. The presentation was pleasing to all, and especially to Mr. Cohen, who was taken very much by surprise and could only express his feelings in actions of heartfelt thanks.

Principal Currier gave a lecture in Philadelphia Saturday last.

The St. Ann's Sunday School Class received a "severe bombardment" from the monster howitzers of Rev. Mr. Keiser, who gave them an examination in the Life of Our Lord Jesus Christ. All came through with flying colors and routed the besieging enemy with their apt and correct replys.

Sunday morning Prof. Jones spoke reverently from the Book of Samuel, using the twelfth verse of the seventh chapter.

Mr Vigour gave an encouraging sermon in the afternoon, using as his text the selection from Longfellow: "Lives of great men all remind us, we can make our lives sublime."

The provisional company is being put through some brain-racking drill commands, having been divided into two platoons. All commands are new, but are slowly becoming mastered under the instruction of Major Van Tassell.

Basket-ball games for Saturday were declared off, on account of the visiting team's failure to attend. Games between the boys were pursued with their usual rivalry.

Mr. Leopold Frey, Miss Annie Bennett and a friend, were callers and attended the Sunday morning chapel service.

Michael Ciavolino is in exceedingly cheerful mood these days. The reason is he is congratulating himself for his good work in designing the cover of this years publication of the Annual Report.

ALBANY, N. Y.

Such a brillant banquet marked the first anniversary of Albany Division No 51, National Fraternal Society of the Deaf, which took place last Saturday evening, at the Stanwix Hall, Albany. It was well attended, about sixty turning out to be present.

The toastmaster, Arthur T. Bailey made a brief address of welcome, during which he took an appropriate occasion to appeal to the "frats" to stand by the organization.

Fred Lloyd offered a few suggestions that ought to find an echo in the heart of every loyal "frat." Support the N. F. S. D. in its efforts to maintain its reputation, and keep it out of difficulties with others.

Charles Mull read an interesting letter from the society, in which its strength was dwelt upon much to the satisfaction of the "frats."

Frank O. Lee paid a high tribute to Arthur T. Bailey, when he said that no other division with the membership of less than a score could accomplish it.

Clarence A. Boxley interested those present with an account of his visit to the N. F. S. D., which was cordially received.

George Lorn was sort of indignant when he spoke of the difficulties he encountered in obtaining the full benefit of the insurance policy, which provoked some laughter.

Mr. Carmichael won applause by expressing good opinions of the organization. The same may be said of Mr. Lawlor.

Frank McMahon repeatedly expressed views of the society which were cordially applauded.

The guest of honor, Alex. L. Pach, was at his best. His speech should be printed as a remembrance of the best argument made in behalf of the "Frats."

He began by admitting to fair sign making, but as he went on, he held those present spell-bound. He said it was a great satisfaction to him to know that Albany No. 51, with A. T. Bailey in the lead, was going to take its place in the fraternal movement, concident with the successful opening of the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Every word Mr. Pach said reflected great credit on our young friend, which he so richly deserves. All honor to Arthur Bailey.

Mr. Pach sketched the history of the Society, which is the first of its kind in America, characterizing the same as brotherhood with all the emphasis at his command.

The last part of his speech was a sort of peroration to the society, which elicited considerable applause.

"Gazed around them, to the left and right,
With the prophetic eye of appetite."

PITTSBURCH

Mrs. Virginia Jenkins Heusner, of Findlay, Ohio, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Wilkinson, Bellhaven, N. C., Saturday, February 20, after a lingering illness. The remains were brought to Pittsburgh, her early home, for interment.

Mrs. Heusner was better known to the Deaf here as Jenny Jenkins, and will be remembered by many of the former pupils of the school at Edgewood. Jennie Jenkins was one of the three first teachers of the school, when it was started at Turtle Creek, in 1876. She left the Institution in 1885, after nine years of continuous service. She was a very efficient teacher and was one of those who assisted in the production of the "Raindrop." Many of the stories in that popular book were prepared by her.

Another of the early teachers of the school was present at the obsequies in the person of Mrs. Edward Clark (nee E. Blanche Roup). Mrs. Clark also wrote many of the stories for "The Raindrop." She still takes an interest in the deaf and their doings.

Mr. Alexander Stoup, of Franklin, was in the city recently. Mr. Shoup left the School at Edgewater some years since and is employed at the big electrotpying plant at Franklin. He is satisfied and prosperous, judging by appearance.

Mr. John Shopsky was down from Herminie, Pa., for a week-end visit. He reports dull times in his district and work only three days in the week.

It was reported that the daughter of Mr. George Winch was seriously ill with pneumonia, but had passed the danger point. Her friends hope for a speedy recovery.

Mr. Barnard Lyttle, of Erie, has shaken his home town and secured work as painter in Pittsburg. He has friends here, consequently the pull landed him, while many others have been seeking work in vain.

Rev. B. R. Allabough was also in the city and vicinity three days last week. He seems to be busier than ever and was kept on the go all the time he was here. A large audience, however, greeted him at his church service on Sunday.

The Frats, Pittsburg Division No. 36, N. F. S. D., had their annual dinner at the Seventh Avenue Hotel, on February 20th. Forty-three participated and a royal time was enjoyed. Dr. and Mrs. Wm. N. Burt were the honor guests. We were promised a list of the toasts, but it has failed to put in an appearance. It is said, however, the feast of reason was as satisfying as the viands. Mr. R. M. Barker, of Johnstown, was one of the principal speakers, and spoke on insurance in general and the "Frat" brand in particular. It was profitable talk, you may be sure.

The annual social by the Reformed Presbyterian Church Mission was held on February 22d, about ninety being present. The entertainment opened with an address by Miss Euna Boyd, followed by Mr. Geo. F. Grimm with ancedotes illustrative of George Washington. After this a tabeleau was presented by Misses Thirma Boyd, A. Pfeiffer, Mary Clark, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Chestnut and Messrs. McMaster, Baker, and Clementson, all in the costumes of Puritans. This was something new and good at that Mr. Jessie Baker then came to life and rendered an excellent declamation.

The pastor of the Church, Dr. J. M. Acheson, gave an interesting address, interpreted by Mrs. Chestnut. He appreciated the good that was being done and spoke words of encouragement and good cheer. The social, on the whole, presented a spirit of good fellowship and social enjoyment that will long be remembered.

The Pittsburg Silent Five basket ball team is now on its second itinerary. Word from the front hints at victories, pleasant going and "dead" towns. They are "taking 'em as they come."

The following account of the P. S. L. D. masquerade party was kindly handed in:—

The Masquerade social, under the auspices of the Pittsburgh Social League of the Deaf, in the Washing-Bank Building, corner Fifth Avenue, and Washington Street, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, on Saturday evening, Feb. 20th, was a brilliant success. The chief centre of interest, wonder and admiration, was a big, life-like elephant, skilfully made by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Baker, of Knoxville, Pa. The elephant made up of Messrs. Baker and Clementson, moved about in a wonderful and precise manner.

So life-like was it that everyone present gasped, and the children looked up at it in amazement, believing it to be real. All spoke highly of the splendid make-up. Never had they seen as fine a make-up as that before. In fact, much credit is due to Mr. and Mrs. Baker for the patience and time they took to make it.

The masqueraders put up a lively and laughable show, like gay school children, and kept the audience at guesswork as to who they were.

The following masqueraders were awarded prizes:—

1 and 2—Elephant, Mr. Baker and Mr. Clementson.
3—Martha Washington, Mrs. Baker
4—Cork-leg jumper Lady, Mr. Reiser.
5—Spanish Girl, Miss Bayers.
6—Hungarian Girl, Miss Toaf.
7—Pink Dressed Girl, Mrs. George Chathams.
8—Clever Clown, Harry Beatty.
9—St Patrick flirt, Mrs. W. L. Sawhill.

Two door prizes were awarded to Lester G. Zimmerman and Lawrence Kistner. Messrs. J. W. Atcheson, E. W. Brookbank and Mrs. Lester G. Zimmerman, were judges of the prizes.

After the grand march, Mrs. Mary Butler danced a clever up-to-date dance, and won the applause of the audience.

Refreshments were served free.

The persons present at the social numbered eighty-five. There was quite a number of outsiders: Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Otto, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Chathams, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E Chathams, Mr. and Mrs. Lester G. Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McIntire and child, Miss Bertha Edministon, Messrs. G. B. Stevenson and E W. Brookbank, all of Altoona, Pa.; Mr. A. G. Lepley, of Youngstown, O.; Mr. James McGrattan, of Niles, O; Mr. Frank Strong, of Altoona, Pa.; Mr. Ed. Reese and Mr. Leon Warren, both of Washington, Pa.

The committee on entertainments are planning to give a St. Patrick play at the same place, on Saturday evening, March 20th.

The Social League held its second annual dinner at the Fort Pitt Hotel, on Saturday, February 27th. It was altogether informal—a go-as-you-please sort—so there was no chance of any body not getting what he wanted or craved for the inner man. The Fort Pitt is the largest and finest hotel in Pittsburg at present, and the dinner was in keeping with the place. There were but ten present, but they represented a large membership of the League.

Those present were: Matt. Lebo, Jos. Atcheson, P. Schroedel, Jr., F. R. Gray, Michael Lapides, Jesse Baker, Dr. J. H. Logan, G. M. Teegarden, Michael Kornblum, and Andrew Donaldson.

Dr. Logan, at the head of the table, was the patriarch of the flock apparently, and he seemed to enjoy the affair greatly.

After dinner all retired to a private room and listened to Mr. Atcheson tell of his recent trip to Cuba, and it was interesting throughout. Mr. Kornblum also spouted and told of his hopes for the League and its future. On the whole it was a pleasant and profitable meeting.

THE HORSE'S PRAYER.

Feeling how horses must think about men, some man or woman wrote what has been called "The Horse's Prayer." It has been widely circulated, but it is so beautiful in itself, and puts the horse's case so well, that it has been printed again:

"To thee, my master, I offer my prayer: Feed, water and care for me; and when the day's work is done provide me with shelter and a clean, dry bed. Always be kind to me. Pet me sometimes, that I may serve you the more gladly. Never strike me when I do not understand: give me a chance to understand you. If I fail to do your bidding, see if something is not wrong with my harness or feet.

Do not overload me, or hitch me where water will drip on me. Keep me well shod. Examine my teeth when I do not eat. Do not tie or check my head in an unnatural position nor take away my best defense against flies by cutting off my tail.

I cannot tell you when I am thirsty; so give me water often. I cannot tell you when I am sick; so watch me, and by signs you may know. Give me shelter from the hot sun; and put a blanket on me when I am standing in the cold.

I try to carry you and your burdens without a murmur, and wait patiently for you long hours. Without the power to choose my shoes, or path, I sometimes fall on the hard pavements, and I must be ready at any moment to lose my life in your service.

And finally, O my master, when my useful strength is gone, do not sell me to some inhuman brute, to be slowly tortured and starved to death; but do thou, my master, take my life in the kindest way, and your God will reward you here and hereafter. Amen.
